

Listed 23 Apr 2010

Junior / Entry Level Para-Planner – Financial Planning

Junior / Entry Level Para-Planner – Financial Planning

Midwinter is looking for an enthusiastic and outgoing junior para-planner to join their technically dynamic team.

The purpose of this role is to assist financial advisers in justifying their advice using Midwinter's financial advice software. Adviser recommendations will require analysis and adjustment within prescribed constraints to guide advisers in providing a reasonable basis for product and strategy recommendations.

The role requires a high degree of flexibility, dedication and passion for para-planning, distribution and technical services.

The successful candidate must have an outstanding level of communication skills and attention to detail.

* Please do not apply for this role if you have not completed your RG146 ****

Ready for immediate start

This is a great entry level position for a someone who has completed some financial planning studies and are looking to break into the industry with a reputable financial services company.

www.midwinter.com.au

info@midwinter.com.au

